Step Right Up! The Circus in Australian Art

Haiku poetry is a very old form of Japanese poetry. Haiku poetry is a very short, unrhymed verse that tends to describe nature. The poem usually consists of three lines:

After killing
a spider, how lonely I feel
In the cold of the night
Shiki 1867-1902

A giant firefly
That way, this way, this.....
And it passes by Issa 1762-1826

Respond to these two images by writing a Haiku poem.
